I was pleased to read the "IGEN EVENTS OUTCOME Report" on the many activities sponsored by the organization. It contained information on many imaginative activities launched towards meeting the UN Sustainable Development Goals. These included GREEN DAY celebration, Panel Discussion on Waste Management, five day faculty development program on "Renewable Energy Systems", International Conference "IGEN ENVIRONTHON 2020" to celebrate International Environmental Day and many other activates.

An opportunity to interact with the Nobel Laureate Sir Richard John Roberts was also provided. Another important activity was the Panel Discussion on the Need for Sustainable Agriculture.

These 50 odd activities gave opportunities to a large number of young activists to be motivated and gathered into the stream of green activism. The Report shall go a long way in spreading the information on these imaginative projects and activities among the public. I congratulate IGEN in providing these platforms for public participation and comment all the participants for their contributions

World economic growth depends on long-term availability of energy, material and other natural resources that are affordable, assessable to all section of people and ecofriendly. Raising demands for fossil fuels have led to overexploitation of natural resources and result into pollution and health issues. Energy efficiency and resources conservation is one of the most effective way to bridge the gap between demand and supply and to mitigate the climatic change problem.

The IGEN has conducted a series of National and International events on United Nations Sustainable Developments Goals (UNSDG) during 2020, like nonstop continuous raining. It was a new dimension of bringing together of different society of people on one platform and spreading energy efficiency awareness across the globe instantly and effectively through online. This IGEN EVENTS OUTCOME REPORT 2020 was an excellent summery of all events organized towards the goal of sustainable development.

This brought out report clearly reflects that not only a lot of effort and energy invested during whole year but also with innovative ideas, sincerity, sustained patience and dedication. I am sure that everyone would really like this report because it summarizes all the UNSDG Goal events took place during one year that is informative and practical with lot of mind-blowing slogan name and event title.

This report also recorded and recognized the world-famous people with snapshot picture in respective domain areas who contributed the world and for climatic change mitigation. I commend the effort put into the report and appreciate the comprehensive compilation of green events. My best wishes to all the readers and users of this report.

I am very pleased to commend the "IGEN Events Outcome Report 2020" to the environmentally enlightened public.

The recent crises has given us many lessons. One lesson is the need of conservation. Energy is required in production of every thing we use. Be it food or clothes or other articles. So conservation of everything leads to energy conservation.

Another lesson is the importance of family and society. It is only the well bring of society which can lead to harmony and prosperity. Association like IGEN help in keeping society nappy and healthy through the events and other project activities.

Thank you for IGEN wonderful efforts towards supporting the planet towards green. It is really helping your effort to spread the knowledge about green and environment issues to student's community through IGEN Events.

I appreciate the organizers and volunteers who contributed for the publication of "IGEN Events Outcome Report 2020" for promoting green towards society.
